

Expectations and Consent for the Radiant Impressions Custom Breast Prosthesis

Radiant Impressions is a custom breast prosthesis that replicates the shape of natural breast tissue while wearing a bra. The image matched is taken from a three dimensional scan. There are two images needed at the time of the scan process. The first one is of the breast as it appears in a bra to determine the shape and profile needed to create the front of the prosthesis. The second image is of the chest wall to provide the back of the prosthesis for the customized fit.
